Saturdays at 4:00 PM EDT – You are invited!

Mark your calendars for outstanding presentations by noted authorities on all things Alfa and more. AROC's Detroit Chapter is presenting an extraordinary array of collector car professionals to discuss topics of interest to you on AROC's Zoom room.

Join us this Saturday when our noted speaker, Ralph Gilles, will show his most recent project, "Dorian" - a custom GTV-R suitable for track and street, which follows last week's Saturday presentation by Joe Rubinstein on using 3D printing to make automotive parts.

Saturday, May 9, at 4 PM EDT, Ralph Gilles (head of Global Design for Fiat Chrysler Automobile) will talk about his five Alfas. His experience with building hot rod Alfas goes back 20 years. Yes, there is an Alfa, autocross and track enthusiast running design at FCA.

Reservations for this Saturday at 4:00 PM EDT presentation are required; 100 participants spots are available for this presentation. Reserve by RSVPing today at registrationla@aol.com. Include in the subject, Saturday at 4:00 PM EDT. Please type your first and last name in the message; we will send you the AROC Zoom app to download onto your PC, laptop, tablet, iPad, iPhone, Android phone, along with the specific meeting ID login number and required password. Please adjust the presentation's kick-off hour to your specific time zone.

The line-up for the forthcoming presentations include:

Saturday, May 16, at 4 PM EDT, it is Bruce Kopitz's turn. His Stage 3 Alfa 4C for the street will be getting suspension mods and a horsepower infusion at Auto Europe following body work at Cauley Ferrari. Bruce will discuss the how and why of each modification. Bruce's 4C has been featured on the cover of Alfa Owner and it is an asphalt-eating beast.

Saturday, May 23, at 4 PM EDT, will feature Mark Trahan and his Alfa Romeo Duetto during restoration. Mark will also review other cars in his garage.

Future: This is just the beginning of Saturday at 4:00 PM presentations. Equally informative and interesting presentations are in the cue. Each presentation will have its unique log-in so be sure to RSVP for the sessions you would like to attend.

Looking forward to seeing you this Saturday at 4 PM EDT, adjusted for your local time zone.
