This is a REPAIR SERVICE of your part. We do not stock this item for sale.

back to you. Shipping both ways is included in the domestic shipping rates, so we will send you a prepaid UPS label to get the unit to us by email after receiving your payment details.

Q. After I purchase the Repair Service, how long does the whole process take?

A. Most units take 2-3 days in the workshop to be repaired. Some take a little longer. Shipping can take 1-6 days each way by UPS Ground depending on where you are shipping the unit from. Please contact us for faster shipping options or select "Request Total Amount Due From Seller" to have the Overnight option added to your invoice.

Q. How do you get the UPS label to me?

A. After you pay for the item, we will request a shipping label from UPS and email it to you, so make sure your email address is current. It usually only takes a couple of hours for us to do this, but we have to do this manually, so please allow up to one business day to receive your label (excluding weekends).

Q. How do I package the unit?

A. As the unit contains delicate electronics and can be damaged in shipping, you will need to pack it well. We recommend that you use a large box (so that there are about 3-4 inches of extra space on each side), wrap the unit in a layer of bubble wrap and fill in the extra spaces with packing peanuts. Don't forget to include your contact details in the box.

Q. Is removal of the unit an easy procedure?

A. Unfortunately, we do not have any information on the removal of this pump. We recommend that you take the vehicle to a mechanic to have it removed.
